

LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS

Caio Cesar Pires de Paula

In the subterranean depths
Where the sun cannot shine
For many people, it connotes pure emptiness
Yet for me, it is an open door to the shrine

In the darkness silent
My deepest feelings became accessible
I do not see what surrounds me quite
But I can touch the pulse of the soul

Many are lost in the cave myth
But unlike Plato's furnace
The cave brings me light in the darkness with Liberation from the chains that held me to the surface

I am fascinated by what I cannot see
And I explore the depths of the Earth
To reconnect with my past esprit
Looking for my present to be
A reflection on my future glee
